

14.00 AWARDS

14.01 HEALTH-SYSTEM PHARMACIST OF THE YEAR AWARD

14.01.01 Selection Committee

The Selection Committee for the Health-System Pharmacist of the Year consists of past recipients of the award who are actively practicing pharmacy in the state. Each year the Committee Chairman is the previous year's winner unless they are unavailable. In the event that the year's previous winner is unavailable, the Chair shall be appointed by the ICHP President. The Illinois Health-System Pharmacist of the Year Award shall be given annually, if a recipient is chosen.

Nominations may be received from Selection Committee members, past Chairman/Presidents of the Council, affiliated chapters of the Council or any six Active members of the Council submitting and signing a recommendation. Nominators are encouraged to contact the Selection Committee Chairman to indicate a nomination is being forwarded.

Nominations are made by sending a statement to the Selection Committee Chairman including accomplishments or contributions on which the recommendation is based. All statements must be specific.

Balloting is conducted so that Selection Committee members may choose to select none of the candidates, i.e., the award does not have to be presented every year.

The award is presented during the ICHP Annual Meeting by the Immediate Past President unless another time and presenter are more appropriate.

14.07 AMY LODOLCE MENTORSHIP AWARD

The Illinois Council of Health-System Pharmacists establishes the Amy Lodolce Mentorship Award to honor Amy Lodolce, a University of Illinois at Chicago College of Pharmacy faculty member who touched the lives of pharmacy students, residents, and colleagues through her passion for teaching and the profession of pharmacy. Throughout her time at the college, Amy oversaw the training of 4 PGY2 drug information pharmacy residents, all of who are currently drug information faculty at various institutions. She worked directly with numerous PGY1 residents and APPE students during their drug information rotations. She also served as a formal mentor to her student advisees, and was the advisor of the Phi Delta Chi pharmacy fraternity for many years. As the Assistant Director of the Drug Information Group, Amy served as an informal mentor to other faculty and was quick to help new faculty become oriented and situated.

Amy approached being a leader and a mentor with an "open door" policy, and would selflessly pause her work to address others' needs. Students, residents, and faculty alike would ask her for guidance with career decisions and other professional concerns. Amy was respectful and nonjudgmental in her approach when assisting others whose goals and aspirations may have been different from her own. Her dedication was exemplary in that she worked tirelessly to provide residents and students with quality learning opportunities. She led and coached by example, consciously choosing behaviors that she hoped students and residents would emulate. An active pharmacist member of ICHP, Amy placed emphasis on professional organization involvement and giving back to the profession. Amy's dedication and generosity to the profession of pharmacy have positively shaped many pharmacists' careers, and the memory of her will continue to do so.
